Dear [MP name] MP

11.3 million adults in the UK still lack the essential digital skills that are necessary for life and work, and almost 7 million adults in the UK – 12% of the adult population – will be left behind in ten years as a result of digital exclusion. So we're asking for your help.

I'm writing to you to ask you to sign the Early Day Motion 1801 to commit to 100% digital inclusion in the UK.

At [add organisation name], we support people to use digital to improve their lives.. Together with other organisations across the country, we're part of the Online Centres Network, supported by Good Things Foundation. We all share a common goal of helping people to improve their lives through digital and together, we've supported over 2.5 million people to improve their lives through digital since 2010.

Digital has a huge potential to support people, and to help them realise opportunities. And with more and more services moving to digital platforms to save money, it's important we do more to ensure people aren't being left behind.

Providing everyone in the UK with the essential digital skills they need by 2028 will lead to a benefit of £15 for every £1 invested, and a net present value of £21.9 billion.

We're calling on Government to commit to getting everyone in the UK online by 2028. And we're asking Government and other organisations to make a clear commitment to helping us to reach this goal.

That's why I want to ask you to sign the Early Day Motion which is calling for a 100% Digitally Included Nation. Giving everyone the skills and confidence to use digital will not only improve their lives, but will also boost our economy – and there has never been a more important time to do it.

Digital exclusion is leaving people behind in an increasingly digital world – and those without digital skills are also likely to be the most vulnerable and excluded – but with your help we can ensure that no-one is left behind.

Kind regards
